

2025 CUNY South & Southeast Asian American Equity Scholarship

The scholarship aims to promote equity and representation by recognizing students who are committed to elevating South and/or Southeast Asian American narratives within academic and public discourse.

We encourage submissions that deepen the understanding of South or Southeast Asian American experiences. Eligible projects may explore topics such as migration, culture, activism, and disparities within the community.

Eligibility

Applicants must be a matriculated undergraduate student enrolled at any CUNY college and in good academic standing. In addition, they must demonstrate a clear academic or personal interest in South and/or Southeast Asian American studies or issues through relevant coursework, research, or service.

Submit your application using the online form by November 7, 2025.
