

WORKS IN THE WORKS: The Humanities Department
Presents... A Talk by Rosa Abreu, Hospitality Management

VANILLA: A GLOBAL HISTORY

Vanilla is the only edible orchid that is exotic, mystical, and delightful to the senses. It is the second most expensive spice after saffron. The commercialization of its flavor makes it unimaginable to be without it. Consumers today buy its products taking for granted the sweet aroma. This wonderful bean was respected by rulers, temple priests, and medicinal doctors. Today it is still revered by perfumers and the culinary world. Unknown to the ordinary audience so far, vanilla has had a fascinating past.

1:00 pm, Tuesday February 27, 2024
Room L631 and Live Online via ZOOM
Faculty, Students, and Staff are Invited

