

WORKS IN THE WORKS: The Humanities Department
presents..... A Talk by Esteban Beita Solano, Architectural Technology

Architecture and Nature: The Japanese Way

Esteban Beita Solano, Japanese Tea House, Bloomingdale, N.J., 2023. Photo: Ilir Rijaz

Traditional Japanese architecture masterfully blends environment, light, and boundaries. Japanese architecture creates spaces that resonate with nature and the change of time. Deep-rooted appreciation for nature integrates buildings seamlessly into their surroundings, forging harmonious unity. These spaces don't just separate inside from outside; they frame nature like an ever-changing painting, celebrating each season's beauty.

1:00 pm, Tuesday September 26th, 2023
Room L631 and Live Online via ZOOM
Faculty, Students, and Staff are Invited